Agents Sell with Words.

Clients buy with evidence.

Pitch Scripts Fall Flat

Agents rely on talking points about hail risk. Clients nod politely, then don't call back.

Without visual data, conversion swings from 20% one day to 5% the next — the same pitch, wildly different results.

Risk Is Invisible

"This area gets hail" means nothing. Watching your own block light up red on a satellite map? That lands.

From ZIP Code to Risk Profile in 2 Seconds

01

Enter ZIP Code

Type the client's address. The map flies to their neighborhood in under 2 seconds.

02

Satellite Data Loads

NASA POWER, ERA5 reanalysis, and NOAA Storm Events populate instantly — all citable.

03

AI Risk Profile

Claude AI states only facts: risk percentile, annual probability, historical frequency. No selling.

04

Claims Data Layer

Upload your agency's loss records to fuse proprietary data with satellite intelligence. (Coming soon)

Public Data Is a Commodity.

Your Claims Data Is Not.

Any tool can pull the same open satellite data. The defensible edge comes when you layer in your own historical loss records — claim frequency by ZIP, payout severity, renewal patterns.

That fusion creates a risk profile no screenshot can replicate.
